III. MATERIALS

A. Required Textbooks:

The Bible is a required textbook in every course at Calvary University. To facilitate academic level study, students are required to use for assignments and research an English translation or version of the Bible based on formal equivalence (meaning that the translation is generally word-for-word from the original languages), including any of the following: New American Standard (NASB, English Standard Version (ESV), New King James (NKJV), or King James (KJV). Other translations and versions based on dynamic equivalence (paraphrases, and thought-for-thought translations like NLT and NIV) may be used as supplemental sources. Please ask the professor if you have questions about a particular translation or version.

Suggestions for Getting the Most from the Course

- 1. Read the contents of this syllabus. Ask necessary questions early in the semester, rather than later.
- 2. Respect confidentiality. Being actively involved in the class sessions in small groups entails some level of personal self-disclosure. Because of the nature of the vulnerability, trust, and openness needed to learn about counseling, it is extremely important that confidentiality be maintained.
- 3. Ask questions. The instructor is "user friendly".
- 4. Participate in class discussions. What you have to say is important.

Expectations:

1. Attendance and Participation: It is expected that students will attend all class sessions except for serious illness or because of other unavoidable circumstances. They are responsible directly to the instructor to see that course requirements are met. Excessive absence is defined as three per course and will result in reduction of grade. Four or more absences will result in the student being withdrawn from the course and may delay completion of the program or lead to withdrawal from the program. Please see program manual for a full description of attendance policy. A student who is absent 30 minutes or more of the class (including late arrivals and/or early departures) may be counted absent. A student who fails to exhibit a good faith effort of attention during the class may be counted as "absent".

Missing more than one week at the student's site(s) requires advanced notice and communication with their site supervisor and their practicum/internship instructor.

- 2. Classroom Behavior: Important aspects of classroom behavior include the following:

 -Being on time, both at the beginning of class and after each break and remaining for the entire class.
 - -Feedback to classmates must be respectful, delivered with sensitivity, and must be constructive.
 - -Orderly and non-intrusive verbal exchange. This is especially important as conversations (verbal and non-verbal) between class members distract from a professional decorum and continuity of attention for class members, as well as the instructor.
- 3. Cellular Phones and Computers: Unless you are on call 24 hours a day for crises emergency, cellular phones and pagers must be turned off at all times. Those individuals who are required to be on call must have their cellular phones on a silent function. These individuals must also communicate this requirement to the faculty professor at the beginning of the semester. Internet or computer use while in class must be limited to course related content as directed and determined by the professor. Checking e-mail, instant messaging, and surfing the internet is unacceptable.
- 4. Plagiarism: Any work that you turn in over the semester must be your own. All material that is taken from another source must be referenced. Individuals who do not comply with this will at a minimum receive a zero on the assignment and could be penalized as much as failing the class or being removed from the graduate program. Plagiarism is defined as copying any content without identifying the source. This also includes taking another person's or AI entity's ideas or constructs and presenting them as your own. The use of AI generated content in student work is prohibited (even if cited) as it does not represent original work created by the student and is an unreliable aggregate of ideas from other sources. Plagiarism of any kind will not be tolerated.
- 5. Incompletes: An incomplete (I) in a class can be given when, because of extreme circumstances, a student requires an extension of time to complete course work. [This will not include life difficulties such as malfunctioning equipment or technology or conflicting life commitments] An "I" grade may be granted only after having been arranged in conjunction with the instructor teaching the course. This will include working out the reason for the incomplete, filling out the necessary forms/paperwork and will include the grade to be given if the student fails to satisfy the requirements prior to the end of the following semester. In the event that the extreme circumstance continues, an extension can be granted at the discretion of the course professor.

Case Presentation Format

Written Presentation

- 1) Handout and review written case presentation as outlined in class
- 2) Peers and faculty are then given the opportunity to ask questions and or give feedback on quality and thoroughness of written work and presentation.

Video Tape Presentation

- 1) The student first identifies questions that they would like their peers and faculty to pay extra special attention to in the video recording.
- 2) The student shows a fifteen to 20 minutes segment of their video recording. The faculty, student, or peers can stop the recording at any time if comments or clarifications are needed.
- 3) Discuss any multicultural considerations that impact this case to include gender, socioeconomic, ethnicity, and any other forms of diversity to be considered.
- 4) The student is then given the first opportunity to express personal feedback on him/herself.
- 5) The other students in the class and faculty are then given the opportunity to give feedback. It is important that the other students keep in mind the questions that were identified at the beginning by the student presenter. Other areas of potential feedback might include:
 - A) Observations of counselor/client non-relationship
 - B) Observations of techniques and skill in delivered in session
 - C) Observations of non-verbal behaviors
 - D) Observations of issues, both personal and professional, that might be barriers for the student
 - E) Observations of student strengths
- 6) The faculty member will act as the moderator and process observer.

Wrap Up

- 1) The student will summarize the feedback and clearly identify what they have learned about themselves and their client.
- 2) The professor will also summarize the student's presentation and will re-emphasize areas of learning that can be applied to the entire class.

16-Week Accountability

After the internship has been confirmed by the agency, the Biblical Counseling Department Chair will set dates for accountability. The student must turn in assignments via Canvas at each checkpoint. Work needs to be turned in by midnight on Monday each week. A new week begins Tuesday morning. You are free to work ahead—just be sure to identify all work.
